CANADIAN ANNEXATION.

Senators Investigate Our Relations With Canada.

THE DOMINION IS RATHER COLD.

Erastus Wiman Says Its National Government Does Not Favor Closer Relations With Uncle Sam—The Fisheries Trouble Discussed—The Beef Question.

NEW YORK, Dec. 31.—The members of the senate special committee on our relations with Canada met at the Federal building. Of the committee Senators Hoar, of Massachusetts; Hale, of Maine; Dolph, of Oregon, and Pugh, of Alabama, were present. The three absentees were Voorhees, of Indiana, who is sick in Washington; Allison, of Iowa, and Butler, of South Carolina.

The Fisheries Trouble.

One of the first witnesses examined was Capt. Fitz Jay Babson, of Glouster, Mass. who reviewed the fishing interests of the United States from the ratification of the fisheries treaty with England, in 1783, to the present time. He said, during the course of his testimony, that he had been along the Canadian coast and had talked with the fishermen, and that they had said that they would have no interference with the right which they claimed of selling bait to the American fishermen.

The treaty of 1818 was utterly useless, in the captain's estimation, and should be abrogated, because while the treaty granted to American vessels the right to touch at Canadian ports for shelter, water, wood and repairs, many of our vessels have been seized and fined for exercising the right granted them by the treaty.

Grievance of New England Fishermen.

The actual grievance of the New England fishermen against the Canadian government was stated by Capt. Babson and Senator Hoar to be this: "That the American fishermen are denied the right to commercial privileges in the ports of Canada such as are granted to Canadian fishermen in United States ports, and that the custom laws of Canada are onerous, vexatious and unreasonable." The remedy was said to be the enforcement of retaliatory measures whenever any nation unfairly discriminated against American fishermen.

Erastus Wiman on Commercial Union.

Erastus Wiman said that the present relations between this country and Canada are not satisfactory, and that the national government of Canada is not in favor of closer relations with this country. The Canadian debt is held in a great measure by English parties, and these creditors would like to see closer relations between this country and Canada. He thought that there would be a strong protest against political union by the British government, but that a commercial union would meet its approval. The question of annexation is not growing as rapidly as it should, because the Canadian senators are not appointed for life, and therefore they are the most conservative of men. A commercial union would, in his opinion, hasten Canadian independence.

Canada's Place to Move First.

Senator Hoar remarked that the expediency of annexation was a matter for Canada to settle, and that the United States would take no steps toward hastening the consummation of the idea. Franklin B. Thurber thought that the tariff was a decided barrier in the way of commercial intercourse with Canada. Thomas L. Greene gave the railroad side of the question, and Mr. Wiman was afterward recalled and said that Canadian roads were willing to comply with the interstate law, and that many of them were complying with it at present.

A Sanguine Canadian.

Francis W. Glenn, an ex-member of the Canadian parliament, said that Canada was coming to the United States, and that it was only a question of time when the United States must open its markets to her. Canada had adopted the United States school system, the American system of election and other customs.

The Senate Beef Inquiry.

The committee of the United States senate appointed to inquire into the transportation and sale of meat products of the United States held their first meeting in this city in the Hoffman house. Those present were Senators Vest, Manderson, Plumb and Farwell. A number of gentlemen largely interested in the exportation of cattle were present to give their testimony. Mr. T. C. Eastman, a large cattle dealer, said there was nothing to stimulate dealers and shippers of cattle in this city since the passage of the interstate commerce law. Certain car companies get a mileage and pay part of that mileage to the shippers in the west as an inducement to ship by their roads. In answer to a question by Senator Plumb, Mr. Eastman said that the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western railroad is transporting most of their cattle in cattle cars and are paying half of their mileage to the companies shipping the cattle, thus in an indirect way cutting rates.

Shipment to England.

The shipment of cattle to England had increased 4,000 head during the past year. The increasing demand was due to the increase in population. Cattle could be raised much cheaper here than in England. He did not think the quality of beef from the west as good as it was ten years ago. The cattle raisers put inferior cattle on the market. The canned meat establishments used the lowest grades of cattle in the market.

Commissioner Coleman Resigns.

NEW YORK, Dec. 31.—J. S. Coleman, commissioner of the department of street cleaning, has sent a letter to Mayor Grant resigning his office. Mr. Coleman says it was unnecessary for the mayor to recommend his removal, as it was well known to the mayor and other public officials that he was ready to step out whenever requested to do so. Mr. Coleman goes on to say that every mayor for eight years has assured him that his work gave satisfaction, otherwise he would have long ago given up the office. The present bad condition of the streets is not the fault of his department, but is due to abuses which are matters of public notoriety. It is believed that the mayor will withdraw the recommendation of removal and will accept Mr. Coleman's resignation.

INFLUENZA GROWS DEADLY.

Deaths from the Disease Are on the Increase.

BERLIN, Dec. 31.—The statistics show a great increase in all maladies attendant upon the influenza. For the third week in December there were thirty-seven deaths from laryngitis, 122 from inflammation of the lungs and ten from pleurisy. Dahn, the author, is ill at Breslau. Half the police of Mayence are affected. There are thousands of cases at Stuttgart, at Augsburg and at Cologne. There is no abatement in the severity of the disease at Vienna, where there have been many deaths from pneumonia. The archduke Karl Ludwig and his grandson have each had the disease. Queen Olga of Wurtemburg has just been taken with the influenza.

Severe in the Quaker City.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 31.—"La grippe" has got Philadelphia in its clutches with a strong grasp. Some estimates place the number of persons in the city suffering from the disease at 10,000. Mayor Fitler was attacked and obliged to remain at his home. Director of Public Works Stockley, Superintendent of Police Lamon, Chief of Detectives Wood and 135 members of the police force are also laid up with the grip.

Six Death at Boston.

BOSTON, Dec. 31.—The influenza has thus far sent six people to their graves, but it is thought to be on the wane now. There are 200 cases at the hospital at Deer Island. Over 100 postoffice employes are ill and off duty.

A Death in New York.

NEW YORK, Dec. 31.—Over 300 policemen are laid up with "la grippe." Inspector Byrnes is among the victims. Policeman T. J. Golden has died of the disease.

One Fatality at Trenton.

TRENTON, N. J., Dec. 31.—Michael Mulhall has just died here of influenza. Hundreds of people are ill with the disease here.

TEN MEN KILLED.

A Fatal Race War in the State of Georgia.

SAVANNAH, Dec. 27.—Three whites and three blacks lost their lives in the race trouble at Jessup, Ga. The whites were Deputy Marshal Barnhill, William Wood and Henry Anderson. The latter, a hotel keeper, was accidentally shot by an unknown white man. The blacks were Bill Hopp and Pete Jackson, shot in cells in the jail, and Bill Flutt, called out of his house and shot. William Wood, Sr., was shot through the head, but will recover.

Sally Hopps and Hannah Waltham, negro women, were whipped and ordered out of town. This caused a riot. After the riot was over the jail was attacked by nine men at 2 a. m. It had been left unguarded. The military are in possession of the town. No further trouble is expected.

When the jail was attacked the military were half a mile distant. By the time a detachment of the troops reached the jail the mob had departed, leaving the dead bodies of the negroes Johnson and Hopps in their cells. The commander of the military had suggested to the mayor that soldiers guard the jail, but the mayor said the sheriff could protect the prisoners.

The Georgia Hussars have returned here. The Brunswick company remains on duty by request of the mayor. The Hussars say the trouble is over. They say hundreds of colored people were taken into the houses of leading white citizens and protected from danger, remaining all night.

A Jessup dispatch to The Morning News, dated 6 p. m., says Mayor Hobbs has called a public meeting to take steps to defend the town. It is believed that the negro desperado, Brewer, and a large force of negroes are near the town ready for a night attack. Citizens are arming to aid the Brunswick rifles if necessary. A special train was run out to the brick yards, where Brewer was supposed to be, and a detachment of armed men were sent out as scouts. Mayor Hobbs had received word from Brunswick that Ryan, the white man accused of instigating the trouble, was in Brunswick, but the mayor will not take steps to have Ryan brought back.

There is still great excitement in the country around Jessup, but affairs will probably quiet down soon. It is the region of turpentine distilleries and sawmills, and the Jessup trouble is likely to disorganize labor for some time to come.

PARNELL'S DIVORCE TROUBLE.

He Says The Times Is Behind the O'Shea Suit.

LONDON, Dec. 31.—Mr. Parnell declares that Capt. O'Shea's action for a divorce, with which his name has been connected as corespondent, has been brought forward for political effect, and is part of the conspiracy to break him down. He says Secretary Houston, of the Royal union, who figured before the special commission as the backer of the perjurer Piggott, is now the backer of his treacherous friend, the captain, and has instigated him to take advantage of the fact that he (Parnell) lived at O'Shea's house from 1880 to 1886. He further says that he has not as yet received notice of the filing of a divorce suit by Capt. O'Shea against his wife.

Secretary Houston has written a letter denying the statement made by Mr. Parnell in his letter to The Freeman's Journal that Mr. Houston instigated Capt. O'Shea to bring suit for divorce. Mr. Houston says he had no knowledge of the action taken by Capt. O'Shea until he saw the announcement of the divorce case published in the papers on Saturday.

Capt. O'Shea, in denying the allegation that his suit against Mr. Parnell was instigated by The Times, produces a letter written by the editor of that paper, bearing the date Dec. 29, asking him to confirm or correct any misstatements in the report that he had brought action against his wife for divorce implicating the Irish leader.

Apropos of the allegation of Mr. Parnell and his friends that the action brought against the Home Rule leader by Capt. O'Shea was instigated by Mr. Houston in the interest of The Times in the expectation that it would have the effect to weaken Mr. Parnell's suit for libel against The Times and draw public attention away from the commission's report on the forged letters, it is noteworthy that the hearing of O'Shea's case is fixed for a time concurrent with the examination of Parnell's suit against The Times. The coincidence may be accidental, but nobody can be found who believes that it is, and as to the issue of the O'Shea action, opinion is general that the captain will emerge from the contest the most discredited and despised man in England.

Maggie Hourigan Was Murdered.

SARATOGA, N. Y., Dec. 31.—The mystery surrounding the death of Maggie Hourigan, whose body was found in a pool near Greenwich, Oct. 16, seems likely to be cleared up. Dr. Scott has just made a statement that on the night of Maggie's death he was called by a man, said to be Howard Bailey, to attend the girl professionally. He found her in a field in custody of three men. She was insensible, and the men said she had fallen and struck her head. He remained until she seemed to be dead. He told the men they were in a bad scrape, and refused to advise them what to do. They evidently carried the girl to the pool in order to make it appear to be a case of suicide. When the body was found Dr. Scott was called in to make an autopsy, and testified that death resulted from drowning. A subsequent autopsy by others showed that death was caused by a blow on the head.

Alexander Hamilton's Grandson Dead.

NEW YORK, Dec. 31.—Alexander Hamilton, one of the ablest lawyers of a generation ago, and a grandson of the great statesman whose name he bore, died Dec. 30 at the Hamilton estate, near Irvington, of heart disease, at the age of 72 years. Mr. Hamilton ranked as a lawyer with Charles O'Conor, Daniel Lord and other leaders of the bar in his prime. Though long retired from business, he was president of the Knickerbocker club, vice president of the Society of the Cincinnatus, and held various other positions of honor and responsibility. He was a graduate of West Point, was at one time secretary of the legation to Spain, was one of the oldest members of the New York Yacht club, and had written several historical works. His wife, a daughter of the late Maturin Livingston, survives him.

COLORED PEOPLE PROTEST.

A Meeting Called for Purposes of Defense in South Carolina.

CHARLESTON, S. C., Dec. 31.—Great indignation is felt throughout the state at the massacre of prisoners at Barnwell, and the strongest appeals are being made to the governor to make an example of the mob. An address has been issued to the colored people of the state by representative colored men of Charleston and vicinity, in which they say that the outrage "calls for immediate and sober action on the part of all law abiding citizens of this state, looking to the enforcement of the law for the protection of life and property.

"To this end, we, the undersigned citizens of Charleston and vicinity, request the leading colored men of the state to assemble in the city of Columbia on the second day of January, 1890, at 8 o'clock, p. m., for the purpose of consulting and formulating a plan by which the law can be enforced and order preserved through the proper officers of the state.

"In this we place ourselves before the country as a part of the citizenship of this state that believes in upholding the strong arm of the administration, and bringing to justice those who defame and traduce her fair name." The address is signed by about two hundred colored men.

A Reward for the Lynchers.

COLUMBUS, S. C., Dec. 31.—In view of the lynching of eight negroes at Barnwell on Saturday last, Governor Richardson has issued a proclamation offering a reward of $300 for the apprehension and conviction of each and every one of the parties concerned in the killing of the negroes referred to.

Mr. Randall's Serious Illness.

EIGHT RIDDLED WITH BULLETS.

Prisoners and Witnesses Alike Were Taken from Jail by a Band of Lawless Masked Men and Shot to Death — The Jailer's Thrilling Story of the Tragedy.

CHARLESTON, S. C., Dec. 30.—The one topic of conversation here is the lynching of the eight negro prisoners at Barnwell Saturday. Full details of the awful crime have been received and all unite in denouncing it as an outrage against humanity. Not only were the principals charged with the murders of whites lynched, but accessories before the fact and even witnesses met the same fate. The people of Barnwell town knew nothing of the crime until they awoke on Saturday morning. How the prisoners were taken from the jail is best told by Jailer Neville's statement, which he gave as follows:

Jailer Neville's Story.

"About half-past 2 or 3 o'clock Saturday morning some one knocked at the gate. I got up and opened the window and asked who was there. Some one in the crowd said, 'My name is Black, from Martin's Station, with a prisoner. Come out and take him.' I told them to hold on until I got ready. I dressed quickly and went out as usual to receive a prisoner.

In Rushed a Mob.

"I unlocked the gate, and as I opened it a mob of masked men rushed in on me. They demanded the prisoners from Martin's Station and asked me where they were. I told them they were in jail. By this time they had taken the keys from me, but told me to go and unlock the doors. I told them I would not, that they must unlock the doors themselves, as they had the keys.

Threatened with Death.

"The crowd then went to the door of the jail, with the keys unlocked it and shoved me in the jail ahead of them. As I struck the second jail gate, which is of iron, they told me to take the keys and unlock it. I refused to do it, and then they threatened to shoot me, drawing pistols. I told them I could not unlock that gate, and they sent down to the yard for an ax and said if I did not open it they would knock the whole d——d thing open and let the prisoners out. Just before the crowd got to the gate that leads to the cells and rooms I told them if they were determined to go into the jail to give me the keys and I would unlock the gate, but asked them not to turn out any of the prisoners except those they wanted."

Witnesses and Prisoners Alike Went.

"They themselves took the key, unlocked the door, went into the jail and took out first Mitchell Adams, who was charged with the murder of J. J. Hefferman. Then three of them carried out Judge Jones, Robert Phœnix, Peter Bell, Hugh Furz, Harrison Johnson and Ralph Morrall, all colored. Bell was charged with the murder of Robert Martin, who was mysteriously killed at Martin's Station last Saturday. Hugh Furz was in as an accessory to the killing, and Ralph Morrall and Robert Phœnix were held as witnesses, but were supposed to have been accessories to the crime. Judge Jones and Harrison Johnson were held as witnesses.

"The crowd next roped the eight prisoners, brought them down stairs and marched them through the principal streets, compelling me to go with them. We got seventy yards across Turkey creek, which is about a quarter of a mile away. They stayed there some fifteen or twenty minutes, and the crowd asked the prisoners a good many questions.

"After talking to the prisoners I heard some one in the crowd say: 'We'll kill them right here.' I asked the guard who had me in charge to carry me back to the bridge, as I did not want to see the negroes killed. The crowd that had me said I should not go back. About that time two or three men ran up, caught hold of me and told the guards who had me in charge to carry me back to the bridge.

Many Shots Fired.

"One man on each side of me walked me back, and I, with the guard, sat there twenty-five or thirty minutes before the crowd left me. About thirty minutes after they were gone they commenced firing. It seemed to me they kept firing five or six minutes. I imagine 150 shots were fired in that time. The guard then said, 'Let's go up the road where the party are firing.' I mounted a horse that a man was leading and rode up the road some 250 yards before the firing ceased.

"We went a few steps further, when we met the crowd returning to town. They escorted me back to town, and bidding me good night said I could go to bed or go tell the sheriff that they had wound it up. The crowd then dispersed."

The Scene of the Execution.

The ghastly scene at the place of execution is thus described by a man who inspected it: "The bodies were lying on the roadside. When we reached there at 9 o'clock the bodies of Johnson and Adams had been removed, but the others were undisturbed. The mob divided the murderers, putting the Hefferman slayers on the left of the road and the Martin murderers on the right. The negroes' arms were pinioned and tightly tied to trees with strong ropes before they were shot. They were not hanged, however. It is impossible to describe how many shots each man received and where they were struck, as their bodies and heads were literally torn to pieces.

"Mitchell Adams was tied to the post which marks the corporate limits of Barnwell. Just to his right his accomplice, Ripley Johnson, was fastened to a tree. The Martin murderers on the other side of the road were arranged in line.

A Horrible Death.

"Some of the negroes were old men, Morrall possibly being 60 years old, and Peter Bell about the same age. Some of the unfortunate men had their eyes shot out, others were wounded in the chest and face. Blood covered the ground upon which they laid, and a more horrible sight could not be imagined."

He named the cases of Stewart shooting Mr. J. L. Brown, the killing of Robert Martin, the shooting of Mr. Joe Dickinson by Jasper Bradham and the shooting of Mr. Nat Weekly by an unknown negro. Sheriff Lancaster was at home when the jail was attacked, and was greatly surprised when he heard of the shooting. He does not apprehend further trouble and has no guard at the jail.

Verdict of the Coroner's Jury.

The verdict of the coroner's journey is as follows: "That the aforesaid parties came to their deaths by gunshot wounds inflicted by the hands of party or parties unknown."

The New Disease.

"LA GRIPPE" MAKES ITS APPEARANCE IN THIS PART OF THE STATE.

A new disease known as the "Russian Influenza" or "La Grippe," commonly called the "grip," is afflicting persons of all ages' sex or condition in this and the old country. It is caused by the air and is not contagious, as the rich and poor of all nationalities are equally liable to catch it. It is described as a mixture of "malaria and hay fever," the attack lasting about a week. While the disease has not proven fatal in this country, still we reprint the following, which the New York Board of Health furnishes as an efficacious remedy: "Spray the affected membrane with a ten percent, solution of quinine freely and frequently, and take four or five times a day a pill made as follows: Quinine, 3 grains; camphor one half grain; extract of belladonna, one fourth grain."

Another remedy used in Philadelphia is the white flowers used in immortelle designs, called "Life Everlasting." It is used as follows: "Take a small quantity and scald it with boiling water. Within ten to fifteen minutes it is ready for drinking, hot as can be swallowed, and after the chilly feeling subsides the same drink taken cold, half a tumblerful at a time, will strengthen the system and check the complaint and make a speedy cure. I have been in use of this valuable herb since 1847. I recommend it for all colds. Drink it hot, three or four times daily, and bedtime particularly."

This disease has been prevalent in Paris for some time, and a number of deaths have resulted. It is spreading in this country, and a number of cases ...ported from Scranton and Sun... As it will no doubt reach ...urg, it is important to know ...ptoms. Dr. Bartholomew ... in last week's Medical ...ows:

...mes suddenly; goes as ... robust, at any age ...o be the first vic...estion of bodily ...ex. The large ... attacked at... and thus those ...eized, the on... ...y depressing ...ess. There is ...us designated ...t chills and a ... Sometimes ...nd is experienc... like the attack itself, is short in ...on, lasting but a few hours.

THE SPECIFIC SYMPTOMS.

...h some bad feeling, not developing immediately, however, there are heat and burning of the nose and fauces, tickling with heat of the Eustachian tube, and a simular sensation in the the tear duct. The eyes feel hot, the lids swell, and tears begin to flow. The most unpleasant of these sensations is a stuffing of the upper parts of the nares and even in the frontal sinuses.

With the first access of the nasal and faucial irritation comes the chilliness, which is followed by some feverishness, with more pronounced malaise and in general, the headache, weakness and soreness of the members, especially of the larger joints. With the progress of the case in some epidemics there is considerable general weakness, even marked depression, of the vital powers. The pulse becomes small and weak, the mind gloomy, and restlessness ensues. There is little disposition to exertion at any time, and mental hebetude coincides with physical depression. The indisposition to exertion is a conservative state, in so far as quiet is necessary, owing to the enfeeblement of the cardiac ganglia and the centres of the respiratory and cardiac systems.

When a fatal termination is to occur, as a rule, an extension down ward into the trachea and bronchi takes place. The cough in all cases has, at the outset, a brassy, rough or ringing charicter; it is not paroxysmal; it is frequent, almost incessant, as is the tickling of the throat, the tickling of the nares. and the itching ing and tickling of the middle ear.

RELAPSES AND RESULTS.

Relapses are common, usually each succeeding seizure being milder, but not a few pass by easy transition into chronic bronchitis, emphysema, asthma etc. The secretion of the urine is generally unaffected, except by those simple changes belonging to a mild febrile attack; but in not a few the urine becomes albuminous and scanty and anuria is added to the other morbid conditions and symptoms. Obviously a catarrhal process so extensive and severe may contribute immensely to chronic disease of the middle ear. Eustachian tube, nose and throat, and thus permanently damage the parts.

It seems to one that the best manner of securing immunity is by the inhalation of sulphurous acid gas daily when the approach of the epidemic renders it necessary, and by taking five grains of salicylate or cinchonidine three times a day, and by so living as to avoid taking cold. When the attack has begun, it seems to me desirable to give one or two grains of calomel at night, inhale some sulphurous acid gas, and have the patient sit in a room where steam containing eucalyptol can be in-haled in large quantity.

Local applications are useful as furnished in gases, in vapors, and in powdered solids by the method known as insufflation.

Of the gases, sulphurous acid is one of the more efficient against such troubles as tuberculosis where a conclusion is reached by test of cultures, To give this; burn some sulphur in an appartment. The amount of Gas to be inhaled depends on the person and his condition. To determine these points, trials are necessary. Ordinarily, some construction of the throat and a pronounced metallic taste—"brassy"—indicate the limit. The frequency may be twice or thrice a day. Peroxide of hydrogen, oxygen, or ozone will no doubt act well in suitable cases.

INSTITUTE PROCEEDINGS.

devolving upon them in a quiet, cheerful unassuming manner.

Resolved, that we owe a debt of gratitude to the citizens of Bloomsburg for the kind hospitality extended and for the deep interest they manifested in our deliberations.

Resolved, that we kindly ask all Directors to dispose of the extra appropriation granted by our State legislature at the last session in accordance with the original intention of the law and not use it to decrease the school tax.

Resolved, that we the teachers, favor the introduction of free and uniform text-book, and that we regard the expression of Dr. Waller and others concerning said introduction as sound and expedient.

Resolved, that we as teachers, recognize the fact that the laws intended to promote the attendance of children at school are inadequate and imperfect, and urge the necessity of compulsory education.

Thos. B. Shannon
C. H. Reynolds
Anna S. Kurtz
Francis Becker
M. Ella Andrews

Prof. Chapin read a very interesting and instructive paper on Chemistry in the Grammar grades and made it practical by series of carefully arranged experiments.

Prof. Excell bid the Institute a memorable farewell by rendering with remarkable effect a solo, "The Old Man in the Model Church."

Supt. Grimes in his closing remarks extended his hearty thanks to the many aiding him in making this meeting a success. He urged upon the teachers to raise money in their vicinities by entertainments or otherwise for the aid of the public schools of Johns town and vicinity and send the same to him for which he will return a receipt and forward it to these needy people, after which the Institute adjourned its meetings.

In the foregoing report we have endeavored briefly to give a faithful reproduction in outline of the work of the Institute, many things were necessarily ommitted for lack of space but the above will, we think serve as a synopsis.

It is needless to say that the Institute was a success in every respect. Not only was the attendance larger than at any former Institute but more interest was manifested by everybody. We think we are safe in saying that no course of evening lectures was ever offered to the Bloomsburg public equal to the one of 1889. The teachers seemed to feel that they were there to get all the good they could from the excellent corps of instructors secured by our worthy county Supt. To Supt. J. S. Grimes belongs all praise for his untiring efforts in the skillful management. We little know the work and trouble he has had in preparing for us this, such an institute, but tasks become pleasures when properly appreciated. That these efforts are appreciated is fully demonstrated by the interest taken by all in the work of the week.

To the people of Bloomsburg and vicinity we owe much, for it is their liberality and encouragement in attendance especially at the evening lectures that has enabled our Supt. to engage with the surplus lecture fund the best instructors the country affords.

C Ernest Dechant,
Secretary.

We, the undersigned, having audited the account of the receipts and expenditures of the Institute for the year 1888 find as follows:

Receipts	$1042.10
Expenditures	$832.75
	$209.35

Leaving a balance in the hands of the Treasurer of $209.35.

Our worthy County Superintendent is to be commended for the economical management of the Institute.

The name of Henry M. Hinckley, Esq., announced in a recent issue of The News as a forthcoming candidate in this judicial district, was done without the knowledge or consent of the gentleman. We were requested to do it by a warm personal friend of Mr. Hinckley's, who thinks as much of the public good as any man in the country. We are also requested to say that Mr. Hinckley is not a candidate and has had no idea of becoming one. If he should desire it, and succeed in receiving the nomination and subsequent election, no man among the present candidates would present a more pure and untainted life in the wearing of the ermine, or prove a more able exponent of the law. If the name of the next judge is not Hinckley, it will not be the fault of a number of bottle-washed Republicans, who are continually doiong all they can to hurt other's chances for the judical seat. We will add that Mr. Hinckley resides in this County.—Sunbury News.

Peculiar

Many peculiar points make Hood's Sarsaparilla superior to all other medicines.

Peculiar in combination, proportion, and preparation of ingredients, Hood's Sarsaparilla possesses the full curative value of the best known remedies of the vegetable kingdom.

Peculiar in its strength and economy—Hood's Sarsaparilla is the only medicine of which can truly be said, "One Hundred Doses One Dollar." Medicines in larger and smaller bottles require larger doses, and do not produce as good results as Hood's.

Peculiar in its medicinal merits, Hood's Sarsaparilla accomplishes cures hitherto unknown, and has won for itself the title of "The greatest blood purifier ever discovered."

Peculiar in its "good name at home,"—there is now more of Hood's Sarsaparilla sold in Lowell, where it is made, than of all other blood purifiers. Peculiar in its phenomenal record of sales abroad, no other preparation has ever attained such popularity in so short a time, and retained its popularity and confidence among all classes of people so steadfastly.

The hunting season is now closed, Tuesday the 31st of December was the last day for rabbits and pheasants. The seasons will open again as follows: July 4th Woodcock, September 1st squirrels, Oct 1st pheasants and deer, Nov. 1st quail and rabbits. The penalty for having game out of season is from five to fifty dollars according to the kind of game. Game in one's possession is sufficient evidence of violation of the law.

A strong wind prevailed last week Thursday afternoon. The swinging sign in front of Alexander Bros. & Co's store was lifted from its fastenings at the end towards the street, and swinging around, crashed through the upper large show window, carrying away the entire front of it.

At about the same time two new chimneys on the Normal school dormitory were blown off. They were being erected on the old wing merely as ornaments to make the old wing correspond with the new, and were 32 feet high from the roof. They were lifted off entire, and maintained an upright position until they were near the ground when they careend.

There have been born forty grand children, and nineteen great grand children. A number of friends were present and an excellent supper was served at the St. Elmo. Mrs. Girton retains her health and faculties to a remarkable degree, and she enjoyed the occasion very much.

The Ninth Winona Reception.

There has been given annually by the young men of Bloomsburg, a ball at the Exchange Hotel, for the past nine years. These parties were started by the members of Winona Hose Company, and were called "Winona Receptions," and now though that organization is somewhat abandoned, the annual receptions continue to be held. The Ninth Reception took place at the Exchange Hotel last Friday evening, and it was in every respect a success. The committee having the matter in charge were composed of the following gentlemen: Master of Ceremonies, Geo. E. Elwell; Floor Managers, S. F. Peacock, F. P. Pursel, W. Clark Sloan, A. W. Duy; Committee of Arrangements, F. H. Wilson, C. W. McKelvy, J. M. Clark, J. G. Wells, C. W. Funston, W. S. Rishton, F. C. Williams, S. H. Harman.

Music was furnished by the Elite Orchestra of Williamsport, consisting of eight pieces, and to say that every body was delighted with it would be putting it mildly. The music was superb, and the unanimous verdict was that it was the best that has ever been furnished at these receptions, with one exception, and that was several years ago, when Rhue's Orchestra of Allentown was here, though the comparison was not an unfavorable one for the Elite Orchestra. The members of this orchestra are all young men. They wore full dress suits, and their deportment was that of gentlemen. They gave complete satisfaction, and their services will no doubt be called for in the future. One of Saltzer's fine pianos was used for the occasion.

The Grand March took place at 9:45, thirty-two couples participating. At 11:15 the dining hall was cleared, and the tables were set and the company sat down at 11:40. In an hour and a half from the time the dancing ceased, it was resumed again, and continued until four o'clock in the morning.

The supper was elegant, and nicely served. At the request of the managers it was not as elaborate as heretofore, and it took but half the time to get through with it, which was the object aimed at. All the arrangements about the house were complete, and everything was done by Mr. and Mrs. Tubbs, and Mr. McCloskey to make the party a success.

The dresses of the ladies were if possible more attractive and costly than at any previous reception. All of the ladies looked well, and some of them wore toilets of exquisite pattern and material. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Crispin of Berwick, Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Billmeyer, Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Elwell, Mr. and Mrs. Amos Buckalew, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Oswald, Mr. and Mrs. S. F. Peacock, Dr. and Mrs. Jones of Plymouth, Mr. and Miss Metzgar, of Wilkesbarre, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Bertsch; Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Lindsay, Dr. H. L. Whitney, Miss Julia Davenport, Miss Virginia Preston of Plymouth, Mr. Watts of New York and Miss J. Jackson of Berwick, Mr. Melick of Woodbridge, N. J., Miss L. Evans of Berwick, Miss Deen of Danville, Miss Pauline Kester, Miss Martha Clark, Miss Ella Fox, Miss Bess Monroe, Miss L. Barton, Miss M. Chamberlain, Miss L. Jameson, Miss F. Williams, Miss. D. Williams, Miss L. Sloan, Miss K. Gardner, Miss A. Miller, Miss V. Miller, Miss M. Eyer, Miss E. W. McKelvy, Miss M. Schoch, Miss E. McKinney, Miss May Kuhn, Miss Annie Maize, W. R. Bowman, Harvey Kemerer of Wilkesbarre, Dr. Meredith of Danville.

J. M. Clark, W. S. Rishton, C. W. McKelvy, F. C. Williams, F. H. Wilson, F. P. Pursel, W. C. Sloan, C. W. Funston, A. W. Duy, S. H. Harman, W. Leverett, J. Vanbuskirk, L. Townsend, F. T. Ikeler, F. M. Ikeler.

The attendance was not so large as last year, owing to the illness or absence of several who have usually attended, but the floor was well filled, seven sets dancing most of the time. In every respect it was a charming occasion, and all who participated will long remember it.

Obituary.

"Fell asleep," on Xmas morning of pneumonia, Elsie, beloved wife of Samuel Hess in her 70 (seventieth) year. The funeral was from the M. E. Church Benton, Dec. 27.

Mrs. Hess had for many years been a member of the Methodist church and her sweet christian character was always showing itself in deeds of kindness and charity, and many are the homes that will miss her bright cheery ways and loving sympathy, but most of all will her loss be felt at home, our hearts go out in sincere sympathy to the sadly bereaved family consisting of a husband, five daughters and four sons.

"But He had need of her, who loved her with His everlasting love, and so He came, The Master came Himself and gently took her hand in His, and gave her room among the angel harpers. F. K.

No Cure No Pay.

It is a pretty severe test of any doctor's skill when the payment of his fee is made conditional upon his curing his patient. Yet after having, for many years, observed the thousands of marvelous cures effected in liver, blood and lung diseases, by Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, its manufacturers feel warranted in selling it, as they are now doing, through all druggists, the world over, under a certificate of positive guarantee that it will either benefit or cure in every case of disease for which they recommend it, if taken in time and given a fair trial, or money paid for it will be promptly refunded. Torpid liver, or "billiousness," impure blood, skin eruptions, scrofulous sores and swellings, consumption (which is scrofula of the lungs), all yield to this wonderful medicine. It is both tonic or strength-restoring, and alterative or blood cleansing.

Chronic Nasal Catarrh positively cured by Dr. Sage's Remedy. 50 cents, by druggists.

Drunkenness—Liquor Habit—In all the world there is but one cure Dr. Haines' Golden Specific

It can be given in a cup of tea or coffee without the knowledge of the person taking it, effecting a speedy and permanent cure, whether the patient is a moderate drinker or an alcoholic wreck. Thousands of drunkards have been cured who have taken the Golden Specific in their coffee without their knowledge, and to-day believe they quit drinking of their own free will. No harmful effect results from its administration. Cures guaranteed. Send for circular and full particulars. Address in confidence GOLDEN SPECIFIC CO., 185 Race Street, Cincinnati, O.—10-25 1y

Guava.

Gwyma Hess and daughter came to Benton on Thursday night to attend his mother's funeral which took place on Friday. The funeral was preached by Rev. Boone of Benton. After which the remains were interred in the Benton cemetery. Mrs. Samuel Hess has been sick for some time. She was known as a very strict christian, and died happy. We all are in deep sympathy with the bereaved family.

The B. & S. was well represented from Laubachs on Saturday. Among the numbers who took the train for Bloom were: W. A. Kile, Clark Vites and boy, C. W. Hess, J. M. Larish, Peter Masteller and wife, Elisha Hess, A. L. Fritz; Coles Creek, Benton and Stillwater were: Mrs Ezekiel Hess, Elijah Peterman, Elias S. Fritz and H. S. Cole.

Miss Esther E. Fritz, dressmaker, while getting in her father's buggy at Central dropped a 5 dollar gold piece; it was discovered by Bent. Laubach who returned it to the owner.

Mr. Elias S. Fritz killed a hog last week weighing 450 lbs. Can any other farmer beat that in this country? If they can we would be pleased to hear from them. The hog was one that was brought in from the West by Rohr McHenry. Mr. Fritz always keeps good looking stock on his farm, and understands fattening them in short order, when he wishes to.

Esq. Laubach took a trip to Central on Saturday last. He walked up and came back on the Bloomsburg and Sullivan Rail Road.

Jamison City and Central were represented in our town on Saturday by the following gentlemen: J. P. Hill, of Manor Rest Inn. Rob Force and another gentleman, Wellie Kocher, Bent. Hartman. Will Shultz, Boyd Cole and wife.

Dr, J. B. Laubach of Benton was in town on Friday. He went gunning but did not have very good success. After shooting all his ammunition away, he was obliged to return home without a cotton tail. Don't get discouraged J. B., try it again, perhaps you will meet with better success.

Len Kile while fooling with Ment Comstock's rifle accidently discharged it in Laubach's store on the 24th ult. Mr. Comstock cautioned Kiley not to be fooling with the gun for it was a breech loading rifle, and he did not know how to handle it. Ment then went to the station, and young "Vanderbuilt" as the boys call him, thought he would examine it again, and while looking to see how the lock did work, it slipped out of his fingures and the ball went crashing through a box of knit jackets over the counter, no one happened to be on that side of the counter at the time so nothing serious happened. This should be a lesson for Leonard, not to handle guns or revolvers, that he knows little about.

Andrew J. Laubach has given up mercantile business and justice of the peace. He has taken the contract to drive Fritz & Hess' butcher wagon and made his first trip from Central to Guava on the 28th, Squire thinks he will like it first rate for it agrees with his health better than in the store.

Aaron M. Hess offers a liberal reward to any one who will return the key he lost last fall in Benton, on Saturday night going home from the fair.

Mr. Gwyma Hess and daughter, were the guests of Howard Hess on Sunday last. When asked how he liked the country in Delaware, said; He liked the people and also the country for farming. Plenty of fresh fish and oysters all the time. During the warm season there are numerous pests called gallinippers, mosquitos, ticks and jiggers. The gallinippers somewhat resemble our mosquito and are about the size of a wasp, their bite is very painful. The jigger is a minute little insect almost invisible to the eye. It is found on logs and trees. When bitten by them the pain can be removed by using salt and vinegar. The insect is the color of our flesh, and once on us cannot very readily be discovered.

What attracts Kinney Kile and Lester Larish over east so much? They seem to take great interest in the Christmas tree and watch meeting over in the hollow. W. F

Notes from Espy.

The Christmas service held in the Lutheran church on Christmas night was well spoken of by all who were present. It consisted of recitations and dialogues by the children, an address by the pastor, and plenty of excellent singing by the Sunday School, accompanied by the organ, 2 cornets, trombone, and B flat bass.

Mrs. Wm. Dietterich and Miss Minnie Pohe presided at the organ alternately, and the cornets were blown by Messrs. Dan Hughes and Wm. Purcel, the trombone and bass by Lemuel and Lincoln Edgar, all musical talent of Espy.

All performed their parts admirably. The Christmas tree was exceedingly beautiful, and the children were made happy by the distribution of gifts.

The only disappointment, to many, worth mentioning, was that the house was too small to admit them and give them sitting room.

The new organ for the Lutheran church has arrived, and if it proves satisfactory may be dedicated on next Sunday evening. This will depend upon what the congregation says. Suffice it to say the organ is beautiful in finish and sweet in tone. It came all the way from Chicago, and we trust its welcome will be general.

The Methodist church is at present preparing for their annual missionary concert which will be held in a few weeks.

Rev. A. R. Glaze will hold special services at New Columbia all next week, ending with the Lord's Supper on the Sunday following.

Judge McHenry Ill.

The many friends of Hon. C. B. McHenry will be sorry to learn that he is lying seriously ill at his home near Stillwater. He has been confined to his room for nearly ten days with an aggravated attack of typhoid malaria, and his attending physicians do not hold out any hopes of a change for the better under ten days yet. Drs. Megargle of Orangeville, and McHenry of Benton, are in constant attendance. It is the sincere hope of his numerous friends, both in this as well as in other parts of the state, that he may speedily recover.

Advertising a patent medicine in the peculiar way in which the proprietor of Kemp's Balsam for Coughs and Colds does is indeed wonderful. He authorizes all druggists to give those who call for it a sample bottle Free, that they may try it before purchasing. The Large Bottles are 50c and $1.00. We certainly would advise a trial. It may save you from consumption.

WANAMAKER'S.

PHILADELPHIA, Monday, Dec. 30, 1889.

It is our intention to put before the retail buyers of Philadelphia an array of merchandise of many sorts which for quantity, quality and cheapness will be more surprising than any of the great offsprings ever made by us in the past.

The time is favorable for large merchandise operations at low prices. The bears have control of the "spot" dry goods, which means goods in the garment equally with the piece.

That's all you need of general information. The details will appear day by day in the daily papers. They will be crowded full of quality and price interest.

Muslin Underwear:

On Saturday we opened the greatest special sale of Muslin Underwear ever made in any American market. We shall keep the sale up during the whole of January. For more than six months many of the best manufacturers have been under contract to supply the goods for this sale.

The garments are all new and include everything required by a complete stock:

Chemises.
Gowns.
Corset Covers.
Drawers.

The prices on the special lots are less than the cost of materials alone.

The workmanship is not inferior because the prices are low, but examination will show honest work in every garment.

The quantities are very large. You are not asked to look at mean or meagre lots.

The sale will be limited in one respect only,—namely—the numbers that will be sold to a single purchaser. This is necessary to protect legitimate retail buyers from the competition of such dealers as may attempt to supply their stocks from this sale. The goods are for consumers, not dealers.

We do the great underwear business of this city. Past success indicates what proper enterprise will accomplish with it in the future. Attention is given not only to such qualities as sell in great quantities, but to the choice and exclusive, and the stock includes everything up to the finest French hand-made garments. The quantity and variety require increased space and entire separation from other merchandise. The majority of our lady visitors already know the comfortable, elegant and retired quarters which have accordingly been arranged upon the second floor. For the purposes of this great Underwear Sale additional room will be occupied in adjacent departments, and the broad space of the Chestnut street entrance will also be used for the display and sale of the goods.

Linens.

On Monday of this week we began an unusually interesting sale of all sorts of Housekeeping Linens.

For years past our dealings in Linen goods have been greater than those of any other retail house in America. There have been good reasons for this:

1—When we say "Linen" we mean pure Linen, not cotton and linen, or any of the other make-believes.

2—Buying direct from the loom-men we save middlemen's charges, and in this way we are able to put the prices at the lowest possible point.

WANAMAKER.

3—Having a stock that is clipped in no respect we can meet the requirements of any customer.

We have made extra attractive prices on goods of every class:

Towels,
Table Damasks,
Handkerchiefs,
Yard Goods,

and so on. If you have any Linen need this is an opportunity that you can't well afford to skip.

Dress Goods.

On the 2d of January we shall inaugurate a movement in Dress Goods that will make talk all through this part of the country.

NEWS FROM WASHINGTON.

The Proceedings of the Fifty-fir[s]t Congress.

On Thursday the ways and means committee of the house commenced their tariff hearings. Many manufacturers and users of metals, ores and coal appeared before the committee and protested against any reduction of the duty on the materials above named.

On Monday the ways and means committee heard gentlemen interested in the chemical industry. There was a large contingent of such gentlemen present. Mr. H. Bower, of Philadelphia, impressed upon the committee the magnitude of the interest involved, and he objected strongly to the provision of the senate bill which takes carbonate of potash from the dutiable list and places it on the free list. Mr. Armstrong, president of the Pennsylvania Salt company, advocated the imposition of a specific duty of one quarter cent per pound on sulphate of soda, instead of the present rate of 20 per cent. ad valorem.

H. B. Rosengarten, of the Manufacturers' club of Philadelphia, objected to the regulations placed by the senate bill upon the use of free alcohol in manufactures and of methylated spirits.

W. B. Cogswell, of [illegible] the only manufactory [illegible] in the country, said that [illegible] was satisfactory so far as [illegible]. N. P. Allen, of Philadelphia, [illegible] he had the indorsement of [illegible] club in asking for [illegible] in the duty on phosporus [illegible] the fixed it at ten cents a [illegible] be increased to twenty [illegible] a pound.

W. D. [illegible] of the Baker Castor Oil company, of New York, protested against any reduction of the duty on that [illegible] White, of the Brooklyn [illegible] asked for a reduction of the duty on [illegible] flour from $20 to $15 a ton. Henry C. Stewart, of Philadelphia, addressed the committee and advocated an increase of the duty now imposed on earth paints.

J. Carroll Beckwith, president of the National Free Art league, next addressed the committee, and spoke in favor of the free entry of works of art. He was followed by Kenyon Cox, of the same league. Mr. Cox said that he represented a protected industry which did not want to be protected. The duty on works of art, he said, was a hindrance to the progress of art in this country. W. A. Coffin, of New York, followed and advocated taking the duty entirely off works of art, claiming that protection put the American artists in an inferior position, a position that inferred that he could not live without this protection.

Henry Mertes, of New York, representing the aniline industry, addressed the committee, favoring an increase of duty on this article.

Robert W. Leslie, of Philadelphia, representing the American improved cement industry, favored increasing the duty on this article.

The committee then adjourned until the next day, when those interested in earthen and glassware will be given a hearing.

MRS. BARRETT'S INSANITY.

The Judge Explains Why She Was Confined in a Dresden Asylum.

NEW YORK, Dec. 30.—A cablegram was printed Sunday to the effect that the wife of Judge Barrett, of the New York supreme court, had been confined in an insane asylum at Dresden by order of her husband, and that she claimed to be sane.

Judge Barrett, on being shown the dispatch, said the facts were these: He married his wife twenty years ago. Some years afterward she began to show mental peculiarities. He then learned for the first time that insanity was hereditary in her family. Her mother died of softening of the brain. Her father, Mr. Fairfield, was known as "the crazy poet." Her grandfather died of insanity. Her sister has been for twenty-five years in the Georgetown Insane. asylum. Both her brothers died insane.

Mrs. Barrett's eccentric and insane actions caused her husband much trouble for a number of years. Her chief delusion was that people were trying to poison her. She finally went to Europe to escape the poisoners. Her condition has steadily grown worse. The judge hesitated long as to what duty required him to do. Finally Mrs. Barrett's actions attracted the attention of the Dresden authorities and of United States Consul Mason. Upon advice of physicians it was deemed best to send the lady to a retreat for the insane, where she is receiving the best of care. Judge Barrett has always tried to induce his wife to return and live with him, but she would not do so, and seemed happy only when flitting from place to place in Europe. She had tried to get a divorce, one of her delusions taking the shape of baseless jealousy, but the judge would not consent to a divorce, regarding it as his duty to her and his daughter to care for her as his wife so long as she lived.

A Million Victims in Europe.

PARIS, Dec. 30.—The number of deaths from influenza is increasing, and the residents of the city are manifesting a panicky feeling. The condition of M. de Freycinet, minister of war, has changed for the worse. Drs. Brouardel and Proust have been attacked and are seriously ill. It is estimated that there are upward of 1,500,000 victims of the influenza on the continent.

ELECTROCUTION CONSTITUTIONAL.

The General Term Says Kemmler Must Die by Wire.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Dec. 31.—The general term of the supreme court has handed down a decision in the Kemmler case, sustaining the constitutionality of the law providing for execution by electricity. The opinion by Justice Dwight, accompanying the decision, includes a review of the various experiments made upon animals with electricity, as well as cases of accidental deaths of men caused by electric currents, and contains the following conclusions:

"We have no doubt that if the legislature of this state should undertake to prescribe for any offense against its laws the punishment of burning at the stake, breaking at the wheel, etc., it would be the duty of the courts to pronounce upon such an attempt the condemnation of the constitution.

"The question now to be answered is whether the legislative act here assailed is subject to the same condemnation. Certainly it is not so on its face, for although the mode of death described is conceded to be unusual, there is no common knowledge or consent that it is cruel. It is a question of fact whether an electrical current of sufficient intensity and skillfully applied will produce death without unnecessary suffering.

"The light of the scientific evidence in this case is sufficient, as we think, to remove every reasonable doubt that the passage of a current of electricity of a certain well determined intensity through the vital parts of the body, under chosen conditions of contact and resistance, must result in instant death. If the question were of the advisability in the change of the mode of inflicting death by capital punishment the discussion might be prolonged. As we are confined to the question of constitutionality, we deem further discussion unnecessary. The order dismissing the writ of habeas corpus and remanding the prisoner must be affirmed."

Railroad Men in Trouble.

ALLENTOWN, Pa., Dec. 31.—The coroner's jury investigating the railroad accident at Larrys, Pa., on the night of the 21st inst., in which Engineer Musick, of the Lehigh Valley railroad, was killed by his engine running into a freight train, has reached a verdict, placing the responsibility for the accident on Prosper Warg, engineer, and Benjamin Lentz, conductor of the freight train. Warrants for their arrest have been issued.

Grapes for Changeable Weather.

The effect of changeable weather on ladies of delicate constitutions is very depressing and serious, and something strengthening is needed to assist nature in withstanding the strain. Nothing more effective can be found than Speer's Port, Burgundy and Claret Wines, which are in general use in the New York and other hospitals. For sale by druggists.

"LITTLE BO PEEP

had lost her sheep and couldn't tell where to find them." So the old nursery rhyme says, and it goes on to bid her "Leave them alone and they'll come home and bring their tails behind them." All this may be true of lost sheep, but if you have lost your health you cannot afford to leave that alone. It will not come back of its own accord. Some people brag that they never bother about colds. They "let them go the way they came." Alas! too often the victims go—to a consumptive's grave. Until very recently a cure for Consumption, which is universally acknowledged to be scrofula affecting the lungs, would have been looked upon as miraculous, but now people are beginning to realize that the disease is not incurable. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will cure it if taken in time and given a fair trial. This world-renowned remedy will not make new lungs, but it will restore diseased ones to a healthy state when other means have failed. Thousands gratefully testify to this. It is the most potent tonic, or strength restorer, alterative, or blood-cleanser, and nutritive, or flesh builder known to medical science. For Lingering Coughs, Weak Lungs, Spitting of Blood, "Liver Complaint" and Dyspepsia or Indigestion, it is an unequaled remedy.

DR. SAGE'S CATARRH REMEDY cures the worst cases, no matter of how long standing. 50 cents, by druggists.

THE FORGER'S PEN.

I was talking with a Treasury official on the subject of forgery. "Did it ever occur to you," said the official, "that a forger has half his work done when he can get hold of the identical pen with which the owner of the signature habitually writes? A great many men, bank president and the like, use the same pen for their names only for a year or two without change. A pen that has been used by a man in writing his name hundreds of times and never used for anything else, will almost write the name of itself. It gets imbued with the spirit of the signature. In the hands of a fairly good forger it will preserve the characteristics of the original. The reason for this is that the point of the pen has been ground down in a peculiar way from being used always by the same hand and for the same combination of letters. It would splutter if held at a wrong angle or forced on lines against it's will. It almost guides the sensitive hand of the forger when he attempts to write the name."—Pall Mall Gazette.

About Printers.

A printer is a unique "type" of humanity. He is a "capital', fellow, for he frequently "sets" 'e n up for the boys. But you get him angry and he will "chase" you out of the office, and the chances are that he will "paste" you one under the left ear. However, his appearance generally makes a good "impression," and a good many people are thereby "lead" to believe that he is a dude. When you buy any papers from him he always "throws" in a few extra copies for good measure. He doesn't care much for "pie," but gets the "devil" from the boss for not being sufficiently careful in his work. He can do up a great deal of work in proper "form" in a very short "space" of time. He never lets his friends "stick" when they are in trouble and we have abundant proof that such is the "case" It wouldn't be safe to "column" any hard names, either, for he would make a bee"line" for you if you would, and you wouldn't want him to repeat the "job" as a genaral "rule."—Ex.

INSTITUTE PROCEEDINGS.

they sent their teachers here to give the "Pennsylvania Dutch" a little that they ought to have. The report of the Civil Service examination shows that nine tenths of the applicants are from the public schools. The results of these examinations are given fully classified, the number successful and unsuccessful and from what states. From this data we learn that the per cent. of failures in Pa. for 1888 was 32, in Ohio 37 per cent., in New York 43 per cent., (possibly we may have a chance to do them a favor and help to reconstruct their system) in Mass., that great home of education, 31 per cent. only 1 per cent ahead of us. The Civil Service examination enables us to compare the various systems by means of a common measure, and we find Penna. system at the head. It is a thoroughly centralized system with a large amount of local administration. The examination shows what practical men consider important high attainments but a thorough foundation. Teachers, lay stress upon accuracy and clearness of statements, make a solid foundation so that there is no need of going back to fix it up.

Prof Welsh next took up the subject showing its importance as a part of the study of grammar. Diagraming is simply representing the analysis. The extent of use shows that it must have merit. As well oppose analysis, which is the disciplining part of the grammar. Diagraming tends to make pupils more accurate in their analysis. Then he followed with an explanation of his system of diagraming, which lacks a great deal of the complexity so common to most other systems.

Mrs. Welsh resumed her talk on Reading. Reading is conveying thought, therefore the pupil must have the thought before he can give it. Teachers frequently overlook this most essential point. The pupil may not have the thought for several reasons. It may be beyond his comprehension, or unsuited for a reading lesson for the child. Perhaps he does not make the effort. The teacher must strive to make his pupils clear and accurate thinkers. This may be done by silent reading, at first under the direction of the teachers. After the pupils have the idea they must be taught to express i with proper emphasis. All new and important ideas require emphasis. What is well known or understood needs no emphasis.

At the close of the session the election for committee on permanent certificates was held and the following were elected: Miss Anna Kurtz and Messrs. Hefner, Winter, Yetter and Dechant.

THURSDAY MORNING.

Institute was divided as before, High School and Grammar departments assembling in the High School building. Was called to order by Mr. Shannon. Prof. Harman conducted the devotional exercises, after which Mrs. Welsh again gave some practical hints on the subject of Reading. Pupils are frequently not prepared because they do not know how to prepare. She gave an outline for teachers, who should require from the pupils what the outline calls for.

Prof Welsh gave many helpful suggestions on the best methods of teaching grammar and what to teach, answering and making easier many of the difficult parts of the subject, after which all returned to the Opera House and the Institute united.

The Primary Teachers were led in their devotional exercises by Prof. Excell.

Miss Guie after a short but valuable talk on apparatus needed for calesthenics, gave the teachers a second drill in free arm movements. After the singing "Teaching Public School." She continued her instruction on physical exercise with a talk on breathing exercises.

Prof. Harman took up the subject of Busy Work and gave the teachers very valuable instructions on that most important but sadly neglected part of the teacher's work.—The true aim of Busy Work is not simply to keep the children busy. If this is your aim ¾ of the busy work is lost. It must instill into the pupils, habits of industry. Children are dissatisfied even at home unless they have something to do. This work is especially valuable in the ungraded school. Then he showed how it might be best introduced, after which he showed the work that is being done in this line in the Hazelton Schools. The work reflects great credit upon his teachers and shows remarkable skill on the part of pupils.

Singing—"Memories of Galilee.

Prof. Harkins next presented some very valuable hints on the Duties of the Teacher—The work of the teacher to be well done requires cautious care and wise preparation. The most important part being to develop the latent powers of the mind. The teacher cannot supply the power, yet parents frequently censure the teacher for a neglect of duty if a certain child makes little or no progress. The first and highest duty of the teacher is to interest the pupils in their work for without this there will be no development. All studies are not equally interesting yet it is possibleto make all interesting in some degree at least, to those we are called upon to instruct. The subject under consideration must be opened to the child's observation or reason. He must be lead to grapple with the thought itself, not with the text book. The speaker showed how much depended upon the teacher himself, that he must be alive to his subject and must understand the nature of the developement o the child mind. Create or increase the desire for knowledge rather than gratify the desire; for this is the great power propelling the thought to-day.

Music, "The Merry Farmer's Lad."

Dr. Brown's next lecture on Retention and Reproduction was in outline as follows. The basis of retention and reproduction is first, favorable conditions depending on organic vigor and absence of disturbances; second, force of impression depending upon interest and attention; third, closeness of connection depending upon association and dependence. The teacher should avoid giving too many things at once, for this is confusing. Recitations should not be too long at any time, for it causes the child to become weary. The work should never be above the capacity, as this is discouraging; nor should it be too often the same, causing monotony. Above all avoid vagueness.

Singing, "Columbia."

Thursday afternoon was the director's session and they were well represented. Dr. Waller was the first to speak, and he wasted no words in expounding the question—How to Improve the School System. His answer was: Keep the good teacher when you have him. Make the text book free and uniform. It pays better to invest twice the amount in employing a good teacher that it costs for a poor one. Retention of a good teacher is the great essential to a good school.

Mrs. Welsh then highly entertained the audience with a recitation. One cannot help admiring the ease of the almost perfect articulation of this accomplished lady.

Mr G. E. Elwell very briefly outlined the School Law, explaining clearly the more essential parts putting special stress upon the duties of directors and parents and how they might best perform these duties.

Solo by Prof. Excell.

Ex-Superintendent Snyder spoke words of encouragement and praise to the teachers for their full and regular attendance. He spoke also of the great value of Institutes to the teachers. Then reviewing the school work during his Superintendency called attention to the marked improvement.

By special request Mrs. Grant Herring recited "The Medley" showing remarkable control over her organs in the rapid transitions required.

FRIDAY MORNING.

The exercises of the High School and Grammar departments, in the High School building, were opened with devotional exercises led by Dr. Waller.

Prof. Welsh spoke upon the subject of conjugation and the various modifications of the verb. Explaining clearly the essential points and how they may best be taught.

In the Opera House the exercises of the Primary department were opened with devotional exercises led by Rev. Galaway. Dr. Brown then presented a few thoughts upon subject of government—Preserving order is the first important thing, and next teaching. That teacher does the best work who seems to do it most easily. That teacher does his work best who seems to do least—pupils do the work. The greatest bane in class-rooms is idleness. A careful adjustment of a well arranged program and proper grading are the chief means of promoting good order; seat your pupils carefully with the view to promote good order. Teacher must govern himself before he can govern a school.

Mr. Sterner read a well prepared essay upon, The "Idea."

Mrs. Welsh once more took up the subject of Reading, dwelling especially upon the point of how it may be made interesting, and offered many suggestions which if put into practice would prove very helpful.—Dictate a lesson to themand then read from these manuscripts. As I never repeat a part read this cultivates attention—punctuation, spelling, capitals, rapid writing are taught. Introduce simple military drills, proper position, holding book refer to the author, we should always give credit to the writer of a pleasing production. Have them memorize beautiful thoughts. Sight reading, something they have not seen before, something of interest with good moral Take a selection, let each pupil read a part and pass around, explain all parts not understood—cultivate a taste for good literature—help them to enjoy the beauties in literature, nothing is more enobling.

Prof Harman Developed the following hints from superintendent's note-book 1. Be prepared; 2 Be yourself; 3 Be impartial; 4 Be neat in attire and work; 5 Be courteous; 6 Be reasonable; 7 Beware of rules; 8 Be determined; 9 Be vigorous; 10 Be cheerful; 11 Be industrious; 12 Be sympathetic; 13 Be earnest.

Reports of committee on resolutions was then read as given below.

WHEREAS: The Teacher's Institute of Columbia County for 1889, has been so ably and discreetly managed that it may be said to have been an ideal organization of the kind, and

WHEREAS, nothing has been left undone that might be to the best interest of allconcerned, therefore be it

Resolved, that we the teachers extend our heartfelt thanks to Supt. Grimes for his untiring efforts to make the Institute a highly instructive affair, and for the good common sense he evinced in his selection of instructors.

Resolved, that we sincerely thank Dr. D. J. Waller, Dr. Eli Brown, Dr. Mary Allen, Prof. Noetling, Prof. Welsh, Mrs. Welsh, Supt. Harman and the other instructors for the efforts to furnish sensible, practical information that can be operated in any schoolroom; to Prof. Excell for musical benefits derived; to Mrs. Herring, Miss Miller, and Miss Guie for the admirable services rendered.

Resolved, that we thank all officers for the faithful performance of duties

OH! MY HEAD!!

Suffering of a New Jersey Senator.—Dyspepsia, Sick Headache.—Terrible Things.

When the stomach is torpid it soon becomes clogged with half digested matters, the blood becomes vitiated and foul; the other organs fail to act normally, and induces a train of symptoms, such as dyspepsia, sick headache, dizziness, drowsiness, palpitation of the heart, pain in the back, loss of appetite.

"There are few things that I believe in with all my heart and it affords me pleasure to tell of one of them." The speaker was ex-Senator Albert Merritt, head of the large fruit firm, 68 Park Place, N. Y., and the scene his office. "I was sick and feared I had become fated to endure the and a dangerous affection of the kidneys. A relative said to me, 'Why don't you try Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, made at Rondout, N. Y.' I did so. I grew steadily better. I could eat, digest, sleep and work with a clearer head, and the yellow color of my skin had given place to the tones that announce pure blood and every organ of the body in healthy action. Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy is entitled to the credit of saving my life. If any one has a doubt about the truth of my statements let him write to me. I can give you the names and addresses of fifty persons who affirm, as I do, that 'Favorite Remedy' has been to them a help and a blessing in time of need." Mr. A. Dakevere, Tarrytown, N. It's the best thing I ever heard of for any disorder of that nature, and I have recommended it to many with like success." CATARRH, Catarrhal Deafness and Hay Fever.

A NEW HOME TREATMENT,

Sufferers are not generally aware that these diseases are contagious, or that they are due to the presence of living parasites in the lining membrane of the nose and eustachian tubes. Microscopic research, however, has proved this to be a fact and the result is that a simple remedy has been formulated whereby catarrh, catarrhal deafness and hay fever are permanently cured in from one to three simple applications made at home by the patient once in two weeks. N. B.—For catarrhal discharges peculiar to females (whites) this remedy is a specific. A pamphlet explaining this new treatment is sent on receipt of ten cents by A. H. Dixon & Son, 304 West King St., Toronto, Canada.—Scientific American.

Sufferers from catarrhal troubles should read the above carefully.
